Engobed Brick Slips

USE: Brick Slips for External and Internal Façades

Engobed brick slips have a decorative ceramic coating that is applied to natural terracotta. This engobe coating provides the brick slip with a decorative and durable finish, allowing for a wide range of colour options that still retain the traditional clay appearance.

This technique has revolutionized the ways in which terracotta is used as a building material, introducing a vast array of hues from dark and rich to soft and pastel. With the ability to apply coloured engobes to terracotta, there is no limit on creativity in design, making each project unique.
